REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Currently before the court is a petition for writ of habeas corpus filed by pro se petitioner, Olwidch Delvois, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241. This matter has been referred to the undersigned magistrate judge for review, report, and recommendation in accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(B).

Petitioner states that on February 11, 2004, he was ordered removed from the United States to Haiti by an immigration judge in Oakdale, Louisiana.¹ On January 6, 2006, petitioner filed this petition for writ of habeas corpus wherein he challenges his removal order. Specifically, he claims that the removal order is unlawful because he is a United States citizen, having acquired derivative citizenship through his father. He also seeks to have this court order the respondent to issue him a Certificate of Citizenship and to release him from detention immediately.

LAW AND ANALYSIS

Jurisdiction

As a threshold matter, this court must consider its jurisdiction to review petitioner's challenge

¹It is unclear from the facts presented in the petition whether petitioner appealed his removal order to the Board of Immigration Appeals.

to his removal order.

On May 11, 2005, President Bush signed into law the “REAL ID Act of 2005. See Pub.L.No.109-13, Div. B, 119 Stat. 231.² Section 106 of this Act specifically addresses judicial review of removal orders. Section 106(a) of the REAL ID Act of 2005 amends INA § 242(a)³ to clarify that a petition filed in the appropriate court of appeals in accordance with § 242 is the sole and exclusive means for obtaining judicial review of an order of removal and that a petition for writ of habeas corpus is not an appropriate vehicle for challenging a removal order. These jurisdictional amendments became effective upon enactment of this Act. See § 106(b).

In light of this legislation, the undersigned finds that this court lacks jurisdiction to consider petitioner’s habeas corpus petition which challenges his removal order.

Further, because this petition was filed after the enactment of the REAL ID Act of 2005, the transfer provision found in § 106(c) of the REAL ID Act is not applicable to this case.⁴ Thus, it is ³Section 106(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Real ID Act adds the following language to INA § 242(a):

(5) EXCLUSIVE MEANS OF REVIEW.--Notwithstanding any other provision of law (statutory or nonstatutory), including section 2241 of title 28, United States Code, or any other habeas corpus provision, and section 1361 and 1651 of such title, a petition filed in the appropriate court of appeals in accordance with this section shall be the sole and exclusive means for judicial review of an order of removal entered or issued under any provision of this Act, except as provided in subsection (e). For purposes of this Act, in every provision that limits or eliminates judicial review or jurisdiction to review, the terms “judicial review” and “jurisdiction to review” include habeas corpus review pursuant to section 2241 of title 28, United States Code, or any other habeas corpus provision, sections 1361 and 1651 of such title, and review pursuant to any other provision of law (statutory or nonstatutory).

⁴Section 106(c) of the Real ID Act states as follows:
(c) TRANSFER OF CASES.--If an alien's case, brought under section 2241 of title 28, United States Code, and challenging a final administrative order of removal, deportation, or exclusion, is pending in a district court on the date of the enactment of this division, then the district court shall transfer the case (or the part of the case that challenges the order of removal, deportation, or exclusion) to the court of appeals for the circuit in which a petition for review could have been properly filed under section 242(b)(2) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1252), as amended by this section, or under section 309(c)(4)(D) of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 (8 U.S.C. 1101 note). The court of appeals shall treat the transferred case as if it had been filed pursuant to a petition for review under such section 242, except that subsection (b)(1) of such section shall not apply. (emphasis added).

RECOMMENDED that this petition be DISMISSED for lack of jurisdiction.

Under the provisions of 28 U.S.C. §636(b)(1)(C), the parties have ten (10) business days from receipt of this Report and Recommendation to file any objections with the Clerk of Court. Timely objections will be considered by the district judge prior to a final ruling.

FAILURE TO FILE WRITTEN OBJECTIONS TO THE PROPOSED FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS CONTAINED IN THIS REPORT WITHIN TEN (10) BUSINESS DAYS FROM THE DATE OF ITS SERVICE SHALL BAR AN AGGRIEVED PARTY FROM ATTACKING ON APPEAL, EXCEPT UPON GROUNDS OF PLAIN ERROR, THE UNOBJECTED-TO PROPOSED FACTUAL FINDINGS AND LEGAL CONCLUSIONS ACCEPTED BY THE DISTRICT COURT.

THUS DONE AND SIGNED in Chambers at Lake Charles, Louisiana, this 24TH day of March, 2006.
